The Engadine chalet was originally built in 1550 and restored in 1969, since then it has been family owned and was lovingly renovated in 2011. A spacious living room with fireplace, the holiday home includes four individually designed double rooms (including one original pine-paneled room), two single rooms and one bedroom with bunk beds, three renovated bathrooms (two with bath, one with shower), a fully equipped kitchen, a ski storage room and a garage.

All rooms have wooden or stone floors, the facility offers a perfect blend of antique furniture from the 17th Engadin Century, and design objects from the 20th Century. The large-scale architecture offers many retreats.
